

JENNIFER MANN, PH.D., M.P.H.

Researcher, Environmental Health Sciences, School of Public Health - University of California, Berkeley

Dr. Mann is an environmental epidemiologist with research interests in both the health effects of air pollution and asthma surveillance. She is a co-investigator of the BCEPHT as well as on the Fresno Asthmatic Children's Environment Study. She has worked in public health departments at both the state (California) and local (San Francisco) levels for many years.

She organized and led the Asthma Surveillance for EPHT workshop at the national EPHT meeting in San Francisco in October 2004.

Dr. Mann earned her M.P.H and Ph.D. at UC Berkeley.